COMMUNITY INTERECTIONS

FOUNDER
Little Food Cabinet Moment Sri - Lanka
2021 - Present

A "Little Food Cabinet" initiative can significantly impact overcoming poverty and hunger by providing accessible, non-perishable food items to those in need. Strategically placed in community hubs, these cabinets encourage sharing and ensure that no one goes hungry. Local residents and businesses can contribute, fostering a sense of community support and solidarity. By addressing immediate hunger needs and reducing food waste, this grassroots effort empowers individuals, promotes self-sufficiency, and strengthens community bonds, paving the way for long-term solutions to poverty and hunger.

EDITORIAL DIRECTOR
AB Journal
2024 - Present

AB Journal is a prominent publication dedicated to raising awareness about violations and human rights issues worldwide. Through in-depth investigative reporting, the journal highlights cases of injustice, providing a platform for marginalized voices and bringing critical issues to the forefront. AB Journal's commitment to truth and justice ensures that stories of oppression and abuse are not overlooked, fostering accountability and inspiring action. By shedding light on these crucial matters, AB Journal plays a vital role in advocating for human rights and promoting global awareness and change.

PROVINCIAL COORDINATOR
Sri Lanka Greens - Eastern Province
2023 - Present

As the Provincial Coordinator for Sri Lanka Greens, I lead environmental initiatives to promote sustainability and conservation across the province. My role involves coordinating projects that address critical environmental issues such as deforestation, pollution, and climate change. I work closely with local communities, government bodies, and NGOs to implement green practices, raise awareness, and advocate for policy changes. Through education and community engagement, I strive to foster a culture of environmental responsibility, ensuring a greener, healthier future for Sri Lanka.

MEMBER
Jana Sabha
2023 - Present

As a member of the Jana Sabha, I am dedicated to representing and addressing the needs and concerns of my community. The Jana Sabha serves as a grassroots platform for civic engagement, where we work collaboratively to identify and solve local issues, ranging from infrastructure development to social welfare. My role involves actively participating in discussions, proposing initiatives, and ensuring transparent governance. By fostering a sense of community involvement and advocating for the rights and interests of residents, I aim to contribute to the overall well-being and sustainable development of our society.
